MAY SEE BONINE CASE IN THE JURY'S HANDS.

MRS. BONINE ALWAYS DISCREET
ABOUT THE HOTEL.

SEVERAL AMUSING FEATURES

Connected With the Trial—An Expert and Lawyer Get Things Down to a Fine Point.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The Bonine trial will in all probability be concluded next week. The case will probably go to the jury not later than next Tuesday. Twenty-five witnesses have been called thus far by the defense against a total of 36 by the prosecution. The government has not generally gone deeply into cross-examination, the principal testimony of the defense having been to the effect that Mrs. Bonine was always discreet in her conduct about the Kenmore and displayed no partiality for Ayres or any one else. The government contentions have been that jealousy and pique were the motives for the crime and the defendant entered the room by the window, escaping that way without coming in contact with the victim or getting any blood on her clothing.

These several points have been more or less successfully contradicted by the defense.

The trial has its amusing features. When Maurice, the 16 year old son of the accused woman, was on the stand the district attorney asked him but one question on the cross examination—namely: "Had he heard any noise after retiring on the night of the tragedy?"

"I did, sir," replied the boy.

"Ah, you did, eh?" said Mr. Gould.

"and what was it?"

"My mother's shoes dropping to the floor when she went to bed."

"Is that all?"

"Yes, sir."

"That's all," said Mr. Gould smiling.

During the cross examination of Dr. Ruffin, District Attorney Gould created much amusement by a dive into statistics. He wished to learn why it was that the expert had found only a few blood corpuscles in the field under the microscope when he made the examination of the wrapper said to have been worn by Mrs. Bonine at the time of the tragedy. He inquired how many of these corpuscles there generally were in a cubic millimetre of human blood and Dr. Ruffin replied that there were probably five million.

"Then," said the district attorney, "how many cubic millimetres would you say there were in a teaspoonful of blood?"

"Perhaps four hundred," replied the witness.

"Very well, then," went on Mr. Gould, "if there are four hundred and there are five million corpuscles to the cubic millimetre there ought to be two thousand million corpuscles in a teaspoonful of human blood, ought there not, Doctor?"

The expert smilingly replied that it would seem so, but quickly assured the lawyer that the piece of the wrapper which he had examined had been the merest thread, scarcely on one-hundredth of an inch in length, and a corpuscle was only about one thirty-two-hundredth of an inch in diameter. He had found several on the thread. An audible smile went around the court room at this minute exactness.

Trouble Patched Up.

A Peculiar Suit.

QUARRELED

For Forty Years the Wife Testified, so the Judge Gave Mrs. Keener a Divorce and Alimony.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 5.—Married in 1861, the parents of 10 children and worth $20,000, Mr. and Mrs. John Keener were yesterday divorced in Judge Brannan's Court. Mrs. Keener was the plaintiff.

"We have been quarreling for 40 years, and I think it time this was stopped," was her testimony in court. Keener retained no lawyers and made no answer. Divorce and $5,700 alimony was decreed to her. The parties to the suit are prominent and old-time residents.

MR. COLVILLE'S INJURY.

George Colville, a teamster, who has been doing some hauling lately for P. Smith Sons lumber yard, met with a painful accident Wednesday afternoon. ## GIRL

ARRESTED WAS NOT NELLIE CROPSEY.

FATHER THINKS NOW SHE HAS BEEN MURDERED.

THE RIVER BOTTOM EXAMINED

By an Expert Diver in Hope of Finding the Body of the Missing Girl.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Dec. 5.—Nellie Cropsey has not been found. The woman found at Wilson in the interior of the state in company with a man and detained by the authorities there was not the missing girl. While resembling Miss Cropsey in a general way, her eyes are brown, while Miss Cropsey's are blue. The height and weight of the women do not tally either.

Chief Dawson late last night telegraphed to Wilson ordering the release of the girl and her companion. An expert diver spent several hours yesterday afternoon searching the bottom of the river about the pier near the Cropsey house in hope of finding the body, but his efforts were fruitless.

Wm. H. Cropsey, father of the missing girl, has now given up all hope that his daughter is alive. He believes the girl was murdered.

Occurred in 1841.

Valparaiso, Ind., Dec. 5.—John M. Currier of Valparaiso, and Luna M. Morse of Chicago, were remarried here yesterday. They were married the first time in 1841 at Valparaiso. In 1852 Currier went to Colorado. After a prolonged separation each secured a divorce and remarried. Mrs. Morse's husband died and Currier's wife died, whereupon he returned to Valparaiso. He learned she was in Chicago and sent for her to come and keep house for him. She came, he proposed marriage and was accepted. He is 79 years old and she 72.

M'COMAS

TALKS ON HIS BILL AIMED AT ANARCHY.

NUMBER OF BILLS LAUNCHED IN THE SENATE.

PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT.

Measure Providing for Construction of Inter-oceanic Canal—Immigration—Doings of Congress.

Washington, Dec. 5.—At the conclusion of this morning's business in the Senate, Senator McComas, of Maryland, took the floor to discuss the resolution introduced by him yesterday on anarchy, opening by recalling that within the last seven years President Carnot, Prime Minister Canovas, the Empress of Austria, King Humbert of Italy, and President McKinley had been foully assassinated by anarchists. He said it was humiliating to consider how impotent were our federal laws to punish this fearful crime. Congress, he said, must provide capital punishment for wilful killing or attempt to kill a president, and accessories after the fact should be dealt with in like fashion.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The suppression of anarchy and the dealing with anarchists are the themes of two bills introduced in the senate and allowed to lie on the table so that their authors, Mr. McComas of Maryland and Mr. Vest of Missouri, may bring them to the early attention of the senate. The isthmian canal report was transmitted to the senate by the president and several bills providing for the construction of the waterway, one of them by Mr. Morgan of Alabama, who has led the movement for the canal in the past, were presented.

Two bills looking to the construction of an isthmian canal via the Nicaragua route, were introduced. The first of these was presented by Senator Morgan and is as follows: "That the president of the United States be, and is, hereby authorized to acquire from and to conclude agreements with the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua, or either of them, for and in behalf of the United States for the full control of such portion of territory now belonging to Costa Rica and Nicaragua as may be desirable and necessary on which to excavate, construct, govern, regulate, police and protect a canal of such depth and capacity as will be sufficient for the movements of ships of the greatest tonnage and draught now in use, from a point near Greytown, on the Caribbean sea, via Lake Nicaragua to Breto, on the Pacific ocean; and such sum as may be necessary to secure necessary rights, privileges and such control is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated."

Measures were launched by Senators Hoar and McComas for the protection of the lives of the president and other officers of the United States. They provide the death penalty for the wilful killing, or assault with intent to kill, the president, vice president, or any officer upon whom the powers of the president may devolve, the federal courts to have jurisdiction in such offenses.

Senator Lodge reintroduced his immigration bill, providing for an educational test for the admission of immigrants. The writing test is removed and the new bill requires only that the immigrant shall be required to be able to read. Another bill introduced by Senator Lodge is his old measure for the reform of the consular service, applying civil service regulations to the appointment of consuls.

Bills for the continued exclusion of Chinese were presented by Senators Mitchell, Fairbanks, Stewart, Quay and Penrose. Senator Mitchell's bill also applies to the exclusion of Japanese and Filipinos and their descendants, as well as those of Chinese. Senator Jones introduced without amendment the anti-trust bill which passed the house during the last session of congress but failed to pass the senate.

Other bills were introduced by senators as follows: For the election of territorial judges by the people; for the admission of New Mexico as a state; for a commission to report on the commerce of China and Japan; to prevent the desertion of the American flag; to increase the pay of letter carriers; for the establishment of a department of commerce; to repeal the bankrupt law; for the laying of a cable to Hawaii and the Philippines; subjecting national banks to the usury laws of the states in which they are located; for the election of senators by vote of the people; for the making of the obligations of all banks uniform; for amendments to the constitution respecting the succession to the presidency and the commencement and termination of congress; fixing the salary of the vice president at $15,000, of the chief justice of the supreme court at $15,500 and of associate justices at $15,000.

BROKE SAFE

So that Postmaster Cannot Open It,
But the Robbers Left the Office
Empty Handed.

Noblesville, Ind., Dec. 5.—When Postmaster Vance entered the office this morning he discovered that a desperate attempt had been made to break open the safe. A sledge hammer and various other tools were left, indicating that thieves had been frightened away. The time lock had been broken off and the safe otherwise mutilated. Vance is unable to open the safe.

Safe Crackers.

Washington C. H., Dec. 5.—Four would-be safe crackers were surprised at midnight by night policeman Haggard when making an entrance to the office of C. H. Brownell & Company's poultry packing house. One of them fired at Haggard. He returned the fire three times and heard one of the men exclaim as if shot. They shot three times at the officer and ran away without securing any booty.

COST

OF LIVING GREATER THAN
AT ANY TIME

WITHIN THE PAST DECADE SAYS
DUN'S REVIEW.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES GIVEN.

Average American in 1897 Paid $72.45
for Food That Would Today Cost
Him $101.37.

New York, Dec. 5.—It is costing the average American more for the necessities of life today than at any time during the last decade, and more especially for breadstuffs, meats and dairy and garden products.

If the average American had bought his supplies for one year in advance on July, 1897, they would have cost him $72.45, while the same purchases made on Monday would have forced him to pay out $101.37.

If he had been provided for a household in the days of the civil war and had laid in a year's supplies of necessities on January 1, 1860, the cost to him would have been $121.75. By 1888 however, the cost of living figured in this way dropped to $99.90 and gradually fell until the lowest point was reached on July 1, 1897, when $72.45 would have been all he needed. These figures have been compiled by Dun's Review. The price records are obtained by multiplying the quotations of 350 of the necessities of life with allowance for the relative importance of each by the per capita consumption in each case.

INSANE MAN

Climbed to Tree-top and when Friends
Arrived to Rescue Him He Killed Himself.

Holland, Mich., Dec. 5.—Nelson Culver, during a fit of insanity, ran away from his home at Hamilton and climbed to the top of a tall tamarack tree. When he saw his friends at the foot of the tree trying to rescue him, he pulled a gun and blew his brains out. His body dropped to the lower limbs of the tree about 50 feet from the ground and dangled there while his blood ebbed away.

Rusie's Pay Drops.

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 5.—Amos Rusie the world famous base ball pitcher formerly with New York, is digging trenches for the American Water Works company in this city for $1.50 a day. The great pitcher formerly received $5,000 a year but failed to make showing last season with Cincinnati and was dropped.

TO GUAM

AGUINALDO WILL GO, IT IS

CONSPIRING AGAINST AMERICAN RULE IS CHARGED.

CORRESPONDENCE INTERCEPTED

Has Recommended That He be Transported to Guam.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—The Tagblatt today prints a private telegram from New York, which states that Aguinaldo, former chief of the Filipinos, who was captured several months ago, will shortly be court-martialed and transported to Guam. In spite of his oath of fealty to the United States, the cablegram states, it is alleged that the former Filipino chief has been conspiring with the Hong Kong Junta and that the American authorities intercepted the correspondence.

A letter from a private source was received in Leavenworth, Kans., from Manila several days ago, which stated that Aguinaldo had been discovered conspiring against the American rule and that General Chaffee had recommended that he be transported.

EMPLOYERS

Refuse to Allow Mr. Ratchford's Representatives in And He's Going to See About It.

Columbus, O., Dec. 5.—Three expert women whom State Labor Commissioner Ratchford has out investigating the condition of female labor in the larger cities, have had the factory doors closed in their faces. Commissioner Ratchford said today that three concerns in Cincinnati, one in Cleveland and one in Columbus have refused to permit his representatives to enter their establishments. Ratchford today called the attention of Attorney General Sheets to this fact and asked him for an opinion whether the department can force its way into forbidden shops.

Mrs. J. R. Hopley, formerly of Granville, now State President of the Federation of Women's clubs, was first appointed to conduct such an investigation, but Mrs. Hopley resigned.

MISS HARRIS

Married Her Fiance's Picture in Order to Comply With Terms of Her Uncle's Will.

Tioga, Penn., Dec. 5.—To save an estate a peculiar wedding was solemnized here yesterday, when Miss Minnie Harris was married by proxy to Carleton Wells, of Dekalb, Ill., a picture being used to represent the bridegroom.

Wells is a prosperous young farmer of Dekalb county and a second cousin of Miss Harris. The young people were engaged to be married Christmas, but recently an uncle of the bride died and it was found that he had left a large part of the estate to Miss Harris on the condition that she would marry within thirty days. The wedding accordingly was set for last Monday, but Wells was taken ill with pneumonia while on his way east and could not attend. As the 30 days expired yesterday it was arranged that Willis Johnson, a friend of the groom, should act as proxy.

The bride had a large photograph of the groom on a table in front of which the ceremony was performed and besides which stood Johnson, who answered the questions addressed to the bride. At the conclusion of the ceremony Rev. M. Clements pronounced Miss Harris and Carleton Wells, represented by the photograph, husband and wife.

OPENING

OF 23D ANNUAL CONVENTION
A. F. OF L.

GATHERING TO BE IMPORTANT,
SAYS GOMPERS.

DAILY SESSIONS TO BE HELD

For at Least Ten Days—355 Delegates Present—Chinese Exclusion to be Discussed.

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 5.—The twenty-first annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was opened at St. Thomas College Hall at 10 o'clock this morning and so great is the mass of business which will claim the attention of the delegates that daily sessions will be held, it is said, for at least ten days.

President Gompers said this morning that the present convention will be an epoch maker in the bearing its deliberations will have on the industrial world.

In the convention are delegates representing all the trades from the miner who digs in the bowels of the earth up to the skilled artisan who put the finishing touches to the most precious jewels.

One of the most important questions which will come before the convention will be the Chinese exclusion laws. The delegates are unanimous for the re-enactment of the Geary law and the difference if any that may arise in debate will be the degree of stringency that should characterize the new bill. There is one colored delegate present from Richmond, Va., and at this writing it is stated by the southern white delegates that they are going to use their influence to have him excluded. This action is likely to cause a heated debate. There are delegates present to the number of 355. Two of the fraternal delegates, Francis Chandler of Manchester and Ben Tillet of London will address the convention on the state of labor interests. These two men represent 2,000,000 men. They have not come to this country merely for hand-shaking they say, but to urge an international labor alliance not only in name but in fact. This morning's session was devoted mainly to the seating of delegates and the annual reports of officers are being heard this afternoon.

A CARNEGIE RUMOR.

BACK

FROM ALASKA WITH LOT OF MONEY.

MAN WHO HAD BEEN MOURNED
AS DEAD.

WIFE HAD BECOME A SERVANT,

But Now She Will be Mistress of a
New Home—Boyd Family Once
More Happy.

Marion, Ind., Dec. 5.—There is great rejoicing in the Boyd family at Sweetser, 10 miles from this city. William Boyd, whom his wife had mourned as dead for over a year, has returned alive and well, and as Boyd expressed it, nearly $100,000 to the good. Seven years ago Boyd married at Great Falls Mont. During the three years that followed he lost a couple of small fortunes in mining schemes.

After a son was born the family came to Indiana. Again the gold fever took hold of Boyd and he went to Alaska. In six months he came home with little to show for his dangerous work. After spending a few days with his family he returned to Dawson City.

When he reached the gold fields he sent a letter to his wife full of promise for the future. Then she waited in vain for news of his whereabouts. None came and her slender stock of funds gave out. Then came the news of his death.

She did not learn just how he died, but it was said that he froze to death near a mining camp about 30 miles from Dawson City. She wore mourning and going to Sweetser secured work in the Indiana hotel. Then Boyd located a good claim that panned out well and sold his interests to a syndicate.

"Boys," he said, "I've had enough of this rough life. I have a wife back in Indiana and a little boy. I'll spend the rest of my life in making them happy."

Going to Sweetser he inquired about his wife's whereabouts. When he met her at the hotel she could hardly believe that he was alive. When she had recovered sufficiently he told her of his good fortune. He has made no definite plans, but is determined that he will stay with his family. He will build a residence somewhere in the gas belt and live the remainder of his days in Indiana.

Appeal For Food.

This is the first time that official recognition has been taken in the United States of the destitute and helpless condition of the thousands of Boer women and children confined in British prisons.

HEALTH BOARD STARTLED.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 5.—State Board of Health is startled by the fact that the vital statistics show that in the year ending October 31 there were 1,901 deaths from cancer, or twice as many as from smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever and typhoid fever combined in New Jersey.

THE DUKE'S PROPOSAL.

London, Dec. 5.—Little details of the case of Miss Portia Knight, the actress who is suing the Duke of Manchester for breach of promise which case will be tried shortly are coming out. TWO WAYS OF DOING IT.

The following excellent and timely article is from the Methodist Recorder published at Pittsburgh, Pa., which is the leading paper of the Methodist Protestant church of the United States:

"The first way of doing it grew out of the fact that about five months ago an engine drawing fifty cars got from under the control of the train crew and went dashing down the eastern slope of the Allegheny Mountains toward Altoona. The engineer of a light passenger engine was just ahead of the wild train on the track. He received instructions to pull clear of the approaching wild freight. Instead of doing so he disregarded the order taking the matter into his own hands. He gradually regulated the speed of his engine until the fast train in the rear collided with the tender of his engine. This slow-down enabled the engineer of the wild train to reverse his engine, thus saving many lives and the loss of much property to the company. Now the result of this disobedience of orders. Five months afterward, the Pennsylvania company, through its general agent and superintendent, publicly accompanied by a speech of commendation, presented this disobedient engineer with vouchers for five hundred dollars in money and a beautifully chased gold watch, appropriately inscribed, in behalf of the directors of the company. Another way of doing it has illustration in the case of a United States commodore at the head of an important squadron of the United States Navy in time of war, under the general instructions to use his utmost endeavor to destroy the enemy's fleet of battleships upon the high seas. The commodore, following out his instructions sought for the enemy, using his own discretion in connection with orders which he supposed suggestive rather than mandatory. Until by the fortune of war he was enabled to destroy every battleship of the enemy's fleet with the loss of only one man. Now the result of this heroic and patriotic achievement. Three years of detraction and persecution follow which culminates in a court of inquiry solemnly sitting for more than two months in the strenuous effort to prove the hero of the second greatest victory in American annals disobedient to orders, a coward and incompetent. It is well enough to look upon these two pictures presented and to reflect on the different ways of doing things by a business corporation and a grateful (?) government."

The estimate for the navy for the next fiscal year are about $100,000,000, for the army $161,000,000, and for pensions $150,000,000. This makes $411,000,000 for military expenses. There is no prospect for a return to the economical administrations of other times. We have become a world power, and one of the penalties to maintain our dignity is a great outlay of the people's money, collected by taxation, as that is the only way a penny can reach the National treasury. We may call it tariff or internal revenue, but it all means taxation.

Ex-Senator Gorman does not propose to rest on his oars, in his ambition to be sent back to the Senate, with the election of a Democratic Legislature. There seems to be no question of his election, although the Republicans are talking of a variety of schemes to prevent it. The senator has engaged rooms at a Baltimore hotel for the winter, and will gravitate between Baltimore and Annapolis, the commercial and political capitals of the state. It is also alleged that in addition to the senatorial election Mr.

Gorman will influence important matters of legislation, particularly a primary election law for Baltimore in the hope of furthering honest primaries.

If you could get a peep at Lloyd's register bearing date of Oct. 23, 1888, you would find recorded under the head of "The Loss of the Swan" an article composed of about forty lines of type. The brig Swan was trading along the African coast and had run into the bight of Benin to anchor for a week. She was a Liverpool ship, commanded by Captain Streeter, and had been a trader for ten years. The Swan was known all along the coast from Liberia to the country of the Hottentots and had never met with an instance of treachery when dealing with the natives. On this trip it was rated as an apprentice boy, and she carried eleven others in her crew. There were some repairs to be made after we came to anchor about half a mile from the surf, and it was two days before a native came out to us in his canoe and invited all hands to go ashore for a feast and a barter. As that was the usual way no one had reason to be suspicious, but the captain did not neglect proper safeguards. He went to the feast with six armed men for company, leaving four of us to mind the brig. She was armed with muskets and cannon, and we were ordered to maintain a strict lookout and signal at once if any number of natives pulled out to us. It was to be an all night carouse on the beach, and the three men with me soon declared that there was no possible danger and proceeded to enjoy themselves. They hadn't the sense to stop when their legs began to tingle up and down, as a consequence, all were in a drunken sleep before midnight.

Fires had been lighted on the shore and the voices could be plainly heard aboard as they shouted and sang. My situation was a lonely one, and I was troubled about the drunken sailors, but nothing occurred to startle me until about 1 o'clock in the morning. Then there was a sudden grand yell from the natives, followed by three or four musket shots and more yelling, and I was satisfied that the party on shore had been attacked. I made every effort to arouse the sleepers, but all my work was thrown away. I had just come away from them in despair when I caught sight of a fleet of canoes pulling off the shore. If I had been able to fire one of the big guns, it would have had no effect, and of course I could not hope to beat them off with a musket. I did what most any other boy would probably do—climbed up into the maintop and hid myself away. Ten minutes later the natives to the number of a hundred boarded the brig, and although they found the three sailors still asleep they quickly dispatched them and threw them overboard. If they looked for others, it was below instead of aloft.

The idea was to run the brig ashore and plunder her. The fellows knew that the anchor held her stationary, but they could neither work the windlass nor unshackle the chain. After a long and noisy consultation they finally failed on to the cable to lift the anchor by main strength. A sailor will say that it couldn't be done, but looking down from my perch in the gray of the morning I saw them gather in at least three fathoms of chain. That meant that they had lifted that anchor twenty-one feet from the bed of the sea. They had still three fathoms to overcome, and were taking a long breath to get it ready when the cable was pulled out of their hands and drawn taut and the brig began moving out of the bay. There was a panic at once, and she had not gone half a mile when the last native was overboard into his canoe and pulling for the beach. If they were frightened half to death it was none the less so, and we had got well out to the mouth of the bight before I solved the mystery. The brig was towed as if following a tug, and I was down on deck and peering over her bows when a whale suddenly rose a few fathoms in front of her and fell back with a great splash. He was a big fellow, and I had time to see that one of the anchor flukes was caught in his mouth like a giant fishhook. He came up again and again, and he shook his mighty head and rolled over and over in his efforts to get rid of the hook, but it was too firmly fastened. When the sea opened out and the leviathan realized that he was in a scrape, he started off on a straight line and increased his speed. I had been given a few tricks at the wheel, and I took it and soon learned how to make a straight course after him. Later on I found that I could lash it fast and serve the same purpose.

At a speed of at least fifteen miles an hour the whale ran from 5 o'clock in the morning to 1 in the afternoon without a stop and without deviating a foot from a true course. Then he lay on the surface and rested for an hour, and the blood from his mouth dyed the sea for yards around. When he started again, it was with a rush, but the cable held, and he ran until about 7 o'clock in the evening. Then he suddenly stopped, and before I could make out what he was up to he came up under the brig with such force as to stove in a dozen bottom planks and nearly turn her over. She began to fill at once, and with a rush he broke the cable and was off with the anchor. As we had a cargo of light goods aboard, including 400 kegs of rum, the brig waterlogged instead of going down, and for the next two days I was in her rigging without food or water and afraid that every plunge would be her last. Then a French ship here in sight and took me off, and I was eventually landed in Brest as the sole and only survivor of the ill-fated crew. As was afterward learned, the captain's party were cut down to a man before the attack on the brig.

IRISH LEAGUE

Auxiliary Branches to be Formed Throughout the States—A Meeting in New York.

New York, Dec. 5.—About 150 delegates from all over the United States held a meeting at the Hoffman House to form an auxiliary branch of the Irish league, the successor to the Land league of Parnell's time. The branch leagues are to be formed to extend over the entire United States. The meeting was called by John Redmond, M. P., Thomas O'Donnell, M. P., and Patrick McHugh, and was presided over by Michael J. Redding. After speeches by Mr. Redmond and others the delegates nominated the following officers: President, John Finnerty, Chicago; first vice president, Michael J. Redding, Baltimore; second vice president, James O'Meara, New York city; secretary, John O'Callaghan, Boston; assistant secretary, J. J. Joyce, New York; second assistant secretary, Dr. Patrick F. Martin, Baltimore; treasurer, L. T. Fitzpatrick, Boston.

American Trade and Germany.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—During the course of the tariff debate in the reichstag Dr. Paache of Halle university sounded the strongest warning concerning the "American peril" which has yet been uttered. Dr. Paache visited the United States in 1899 to study the social and industrial conditions there. During his address the speaker laid before the houses masses of figures which set forth the expansion of the American manufactures and of American foreign commerce of recent years, and the enormous accumulation of wealth for the United States. He accompanied his statistics with a philosophical analysis supporting the idea that Germany's most dangerous and most immediate trade enemy was the United States. Dr. Paache urged the adoption of defensive legislation.

Peculations of a Bank Teller.

Baldwin, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Bank Examiner Graham was busy examining deposit certificates presented to the First National bank by holders for verification. Several new developments increasing the defalcation in interest bearing certificates have been found. Several certificates were presented that are marked on Teller Fitcham's books as paid and the account closed. The bank officials still assert that the bank can reopen next week on a sound basis, admitting that their $116,000 surplus is wholly wiped out by Fitcham's embezzlements. Fitcham's peculations are now known to have extended back twenty years. His individual deposit ledger balanced to a cent when he closed it Saturday. Fitcham remains at home under a strong guard, and is too ill to be arraigned.

Increased Cost of Living.

New York, Dec. 5.—Dun's index number, to be issued Dec. 7, will say: "If a man purchased his supplies for one year on Dec. 1, they would have cost $101.37, while the same quantities of the same articles would have aggregated only $72.45 on July 1, 1897, the lowest point on the record, and $121.75 on Jan. 1, 1899. These price records are compiled by multiplying the quotations of all the necessities of life by the per capita consumption. Prices are not at the highest point in many years, and in fact surpass all records since present improved methods of manufacture and distribution have been in use and agricultural operations were first begun on the present extensive scale with labor-saving machinery."

Self-Confessed Perjurers.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Two self-confessed perjurers, who admitted accepting bribes while acting as jurors, a third person who confessed to a part in the conspiracy to keep James J. Lynch from trial, and the former bailiff himself were the witnesses in the trial of Alexander Sullivan in Judge Smith's court. Thomas Smallman and Frank S. O'Brien told under oath of committing perjury and accepting bribes from Lynch while on juries. These men were sprung as a surprise on the defense. Smallman said he received $50 for his services, while O'Brien swore that Lynch paid him $500. Both witnesses said that Sullivan was the trial lawyer in the cases.

Work of Train Wreckers.

Leavenworth, Kan., Dec. 5.—Burlington railway. Detectives are in the vicinity of Berwick, Mo., making an investigation into the wreck of the B. & M. there at that place last Thursday, and sufficient evidence has been found to prove beyond a doubt that a dastardly attempt to wreck the fast Denver-Kansas City train was made. The switchlock and lamp had been stolen. The train was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour when the engineer noticed the lamp was out and slowed down. The engine and mail car left the rails and went into the ditch but the coaches remained on the track, and fortunately no passengers were seriously injured.

Battleships at Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 5.—The battleships Annapolis, Captain Brownson, and Massachusetts, Captain Manley, were received, and welcomed by Mayor Smyth and party of representative citizens who the vessels arrived at Charleston. The officers of the two warships attended a banquet at the city and a naval battle will be given in their honor. Friday the officers will visit the site of the naval station and be entertained at the Charleston Country club near by. On Saturday the seamen will be given a barbecue at Chicago park.

Every dog has his day. In fact, they have just had several.

The SPORTING WORLD

Promising Young Jockeys.

Two young jockeys are well fixed for next year, and their marked success in salary getting will doubtless excite many more youngsters to take to the saddle for a livelihood. Wonderfully and Redfern, the two youngsters who performed splendidly the last season, are the lucky ones, and if they continue in the way they have begun but a few years will elapse before they have bank accounts equal to Tod Sloane, Lester Reiff and Danny Maher.

Redfern has signed with John E. Madden's stable for a term of two years. He is to receive $18,000 for that period, $8,000 for the first year and $10,000 for the second. Redfern is but seventeen years old.

J. B. Haggin, the multimillionaire owner and breeder of thoroughbreds, has signed Jockey Wonderly, who is only sixteen years old, to ride for him next year at a salary of $15,000. Mr. Haggin receives second call on the boy's services. J. H. Carr, owner of a good string of thoroughbreds, developed him and holds the claim to first call. The $15,000 which Wonderly receives for second call is greater than any salary heretofore paid to a jockey for similar services in either England or America.

International Six Day Races.

The great international six day race at Madison Square Garden, New York, will begin Dec. 9. The teams that left Europe to come here in quest of honors and American gold are as follows: Gougoltz and Simar, France; Chervallier and Fisher, Switzerland; Muller and Le Poutre, De Roeck and Kerff, Belgium, and Frederick and Jaak, Germany.

The contingent of continental cyclists is the most formidable that has ever taken part in Gotham's great annual cycle race, and Yankee speed and grit will be tested to their utmost to prevent one of the foreign teams capturing the laurels in this year's race.

Some of the peddlers who sailed are already well known on this side. Gougoltz and Simar, it will be remembered, were only a lap behind the winners last year and furnished considerable excitement throughout the week by their remarkable sprinting in an endeavor to shake off their fast flying opponents. Fisher and Chervallier, the Swiss pair, took part in the 1899 race and created the sensation of the week by stealing the only laps of the race that were gained in that fashion by furious, well timed spurts that killed off one after the other of the opposing riders. Muller rode here before, but was handicapped by a poor partner. This year he has as mate one of the best distance men abroad. Le Poutre is no stranger to the six day grind either, having on several occasions assisted Europe by his wonderful stamina. Frederick, who has also frequently ridden in this country, is likewise better equipped with a partner than he has ever been before. De Roeck and Kerff will wear the Belgian colors in the coming battle on wheels. They have earned an excellent reputation on the other side and are said by McFarland to be a dangerous team.

New Jersey Game Laws.

Much has been said concerning the new game laws of New Jersey, which prohibit dogs from running loose in the gamefields, forbidding the removal of game from the state and the tracking of rabbits and quails in the snow, but most of the sportsmen agree that the right move was made for the preservation of the game during the close season and for the protection of game from pot hunters during the open season. Quails are more plentiful in New Jersey than for a number of years. Not many were killed last year, and most of the birds survived the winter season. Many sections have quails in sufficient number to furnish good sport.

Baseball Echoes.

Manager Hanlon claims that Pitcher McGinnity wants to return to him and that Scott would gladly go back to Cincinnati.

Harry Wolverton and Jack Barry are going into the tailoring business in Philadelphia. Of course they'll try to suit their friends.

Catcher Joe Sugden will not be with Comiskey next season. It is said that he has signed a contract to play with the Perfectos.

A GREAT MAN'S IDEA.

GENIUS, as Ruskin defines it, is simply a superior power of seeing. Have you the genius to see how important an element in the success of your house-keeping is the use of Ivory Soap? Judged by the work it does Ivory is the cheapest soap in America to-day. It is harmless. Embroideries, laces and delicate stuffs should be washed only with Ivory Soap.

FRANK JAMES

TALKS ABOUT HIS LIFE TO THE ADVOCATE.

Fair Sized Audience Witnesses His Play Across the Desert, at Auditorium Wednesday Night.

A fair sized audience witnessed the play "Across the Desert" at the Auditorium Wednesday night, and the performance was very creditable. The company is strong and well balanced, the several parts being given an artistic interpretation by the different actors. Especially is this true of the part of Wamego, an Indian; by W. W. Van Dyke. Madge by Miss Helen Myrtle, and Jimmy Hearne by Gustave Forbes.

Great interest centers about Frank James, a brother of the famous Jesse James, who appears in the play. Mr. James talked most interestingly to a reporter for the Advocate in his dressing room before going on for his "turn" in the last act. He is a fine looking man, about six feet tall, gray mustache and steel gray eyes. Mr. James is 58 years old, being three years the senior of his brother, Jesse. Mr. James was born in Clay county, Missouri, and at the outbreak of the civil war, enlisted in the Third Missouri regiment, in the Confederate army, where he served two years. The last two years he was a member of a guerilla band under command of Col. W. C. Quantrell, who was raised at Canal Dover, O.

It was after the war when the reprobations charged against the James boys were committed. Frank about 20 years ago, voluntarily surrendered himself to the authorities of Missouri, and since that time has lived a most exemplary life.

"I am trying to live beyond my notoriety and earn an honest living for my wife and child who live in St. Louis," he said. "There is a mistaken impression that prevails about the so-called James gang. A thousand things have been charged to them which they never did. This impression has been disseminated through the medium of the dime novel, the publication of which should be prohibited in each state. At the time my brother was murdered by Bob Ford, I had not seen him for 18 months. I was at Lynchburg at the time. I never knew Ford, nor heard of him. A reward of $10,000 each for Jesse and myself dead or alive, had been offered and it was this incentive that prompted Ford's cold blooded murder. I have a conscience void of offense, and by the help of God, and my fellow men I intend to keep it so."

The company went from Newark to Toledo.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

BLOCKADE SERIOUS IN YARDS AT PITTSBURG.

A Break at Duquesne—The Officials Are Confident—Local and General Railway Pointers.

Pittsburg, Dec. 5.—The strike of the switchmen has been broken at Duquesne, the men who quit having returned to work in a body. The flat refusal of the Monongahela division to strike relieves the strain on the South Side. A resume of the situation, as near as can be ascertained, is as follows: Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston, six crews returned to work, applicants for women's job turned away. Monongahela connecting road, 15 crews at work a gain of three; Allegheny Valley 12 crews, a gain of one; Pittsburg and Western, full number of crews at Wilcox Gravelyard. Other roads, full complement of men. The breaking of the strike does not, however, restore matters to their normal condition. The congestion of freight is worse than ever known here before, and it will be required to replace the loads where they were a month ago.

A report from Homestead says. The switchmen's strike, combined with the car shortage, is blamed for the closing down of six mills in Homestead. The mills which closed are as follows: The 32-inch mill, the 38-inch mill, the 48-inch mill, the 28-inch converter converting and the blooming mill. The shut-down throws about 1,500 men out of employment for the time being, and it is said if the situation is not soon relieved other mills will have to close down. The shut-downs will partially cripple several of the steel mills, as they get their working materials from the closed mills. There are 35,000 tons of finished product in the Homestead yards which can not be moved. McKeesport suffers, with Homestead, and in addition to the shut-downs there the merchants are complaining bitterly at their inability to get goods in from the east.

WHERE IS THE WAITER?

CONVICT

WHO TOOK HORNEY'S HORSE AND CARRIAGE

May be in Hiding Near Warren, Ohio, Noted Crook Who is Badly Wanted by Officers.

A telegram to the Advocate from Warren, Ohio, at noon says:

"It is reported that Tim Lowrey, much wanted by the police, has been visiting in this vicinity. A few weeks ago, Lowrey on his return to the penitentiary from Canton, O., where he went as a witness, was released on a train by pals who threw red pepper in the guard's eyes and rescued Lowrey. It is claimed that Lowrey has a farm near Mesopotamia, with a cave on it where he conceals himself. Lowrey is one of the most noted crooks in the country and was serving a term in the Ohio penitentiary for the Chardon bank burglary, when he escaped."

It will be remembered that when Lowrey and his pal left the train near Columbus they stopped a horse and buggy driven by Mr. E. L. Horney of Chillicothe; partner of Mr. T. M. Edmiston of Newark, and forced Mr. Horney at the point of a pistol to turn the rig over to them. The men made their escape and have not since been seen.

MISTAKE IN A CHECK.

But the Haughty Waitress Would Not Permit Its Correction.

A little, mild mannered man was finishing his midday repast with a piece of pumpkin pie in a street light lunch cafe. As he lunched over the last morsel he coughed apologetically to attract the attention of the haughty blond young woman behind the counter, and, having caught her eye, he said, "I beg your pardon, but you made a mistake of 10 cents in my check yesterday, and—"

"Too late now," snapped the blond young woman, turning again to a pale youth with an incipient mustache, with whom she had been holding an animated conversation.

The mild mannered little man sighed and gulped down the last of his coffee. "I was about to say," he remarked as the blond young woman turned, "that the mistake I spoke of was—"

"We don't correct mistakes," she interrupted, punching 20 cents in a check and handing it to him. The youth with the incipient mustache giggled into his paper napkin.

"If you will listen to me a moment," said the little man, "I will explain that the 10 cents—"

"Yes, we had a perfectly lovely time at the ball," remarked the waitress, again addressing the youth with the fuzz on his lip. "Listen here." Then she leaned over and lowered her voice to a confidential tone.

The mild little man crumpled up his napkin and threw it viciously on the floor. "A man can't be honest even if he tries to be," he exclaimed. "I wasn't overcharged yesterday. My check was 10 cents less than it should have been, and I was about to ask you to add it to this."

But the haughty young blond woman pretended not to hear, and the mild little man picked up his check and walked to the cashier's desk.—Philadelphia Record.

HIVE

Of the L. O. T. W. Was the Scene of a First Fight Between Two Women.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 5.—At a meeting of Central Hive, L. O. T. W., yesterday Mrs. Josephine Thompson, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Anna McDonald, Captain got into an altercation that ended with fist blows. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. McDonald were both candidates for office. Mrs. McDonald said that Mrs. Thompson had promised to run for Record Keeper against Mrs. Rhoda P. Wright. There were some more words and then Mrs. McDonald called Mrs. Thompson a liar. Mrs. Thompson let go with her right and landed squarely on Mrs. McDonald's face. There were many feminine shrieks. The women were parted.

The fight occurred after a lodge meeting at which officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Thurman Swick is quite sick at his home near here.
Tom Van Oster is at Buckeye Lake this week.

Young Man Missing.
New York, Dec. 5.—The police throughout the United States have been called upon in an effort to locate Walter Bolger, the 19-year-old son of a well-to-do business man. He disappeared from his home in Yonkers some weeks ago and since then his father has prosecuted a vain search for him. Mr. Bolger has just returned from a fruitless trip to Galveston, where he was led by what seemed a clever. Walter Bolger is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs about 175 pounds, and is of light complexion. Absolutely no reason for his disappearance is known.

Bonnie Trial.
Washington, Dec. 5.—The defense in the case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonnie on trial for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., on the night of May 14 last, introduced testimony of several Washington physicians, including the jail physician, regarding the abrasions and bruises on parts of Mrs. Bonnie's person, and also the state of her health at the time of the tragedy. Dr. H. D. Frye said that he had found 12 such bruises.

AMUSEMENTS.

With a minstrel show like a circus, the parade has become a prominent part of the program. This is a custom the people have fixed. Say what you may, the public judge the circus or minstrel show from the appearance of the street display. The free-band concert and street display brings out everybody who can get away from their homes or business.

The Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels make the finest street display of any organization of the kind that ever visited our city. Their open air concerts, particularly the euphonium solo, and the cornet solo by Walter Booth, were musical treats greatly enjoyed. The brigade of buglers that preceded the procession was an innovation and the stirring sound of these instruments playing martial airs brought back memories of the late war when the soldiers were encamped in our city. Auditorium Saturday night, December 7.

"Dangers of Paris," a melo-drama which is at present in its sixth year in England, is to be produced at the Auditorium next Monday night. "Dangers of Paris" is its all-embracing title, and there seems little doubt that it is destined to a long life here. It has not been seen heretofore in America, owing to the immense expense of the production, which contains nine elaborate sets of scenery, and the fact that the authors set a price upon their work which few managers felt like paying. After much trouble, Mittenhal Brothers succeeded in purchasing the rights to the play, and will present it with a full scenic equipment and a strong cast. No expense has been spared in the production, which is lavish in the extreme.

Y. M. C. A. COURSE.

The tickets for the Y. M. C. A. course are selling fast, and the choice seats for the first entertainment next Monday night are being taken rapidly. All who desire seats for this excellent entertainment should call at the Association office and reserve seats at once.

Maro presents an entertainment that few men on the road are capable of producing. He captures the attention of his hearers the moment he steps before the audience. He is a magnetic man and will charm every one from the young boy up to the oldest of his hearers.

Maro is the "prince of magic" and to see him in the midst of his wonderful performance will clearly prove this claim for him.

Maro is the master of string instruments and will surprise the people of Newark in the many very fine productions on the various instruments.

He is an exponent of art in its highest sense, and the large pictures drawn by him in full colors of nature on his mechanically revolving easel are truly an exhibition of art and dexterity. He draws them in from twenty-five to forty-five seconds, and to make it more wonderful and entertaining to the audience the pictures are drawn edgewise and up side down, the easel board afterwards being righted by mechanical contrivance, when the beauty of a real work of art suddenly dawns upon you, for Maro is a real artist.

The public is invited to attend this entertainment, also the entire course of five very fine entertainments that will follow the one next Monday night. The entire course is sold for but $1.00 and reserved seats may be secured for only fifteen cents. Single seats may be reserved for fifty cents for this entertainment.

ACQUIRED TRAIT

Led Dog to Go Hunting Without His Master—Plenty of Quail at Findlay.

Findlay, Ohio, Dec. 5.—The quail hunting was so good around here this season that even the dogs dislike to give it up. Monday morning an Irish setter, belonging to Harry Marsh, started out by himself. Marsh, for the past three weeks has been hunting almost daily along the C. H. & D. That morning Baggage Clerk Frank Dell was surprised to find Marsh's dog scratching at the door of the baggage car. He let the canine in, and when the train arrived at Canine, a small station where Marsh was wont to get off, the dog jumped from the doorway, and spent the morning running about, over the fields and chasing and barking at any kind of bird he could find. He came back with Dell on a night run.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure, sent for circulars, free.

INNOCENT

Woman Came Near Being Convicted On the False Testimony of a Novel Fiend.

Toledo, Ohio, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Millie Poland was indicted by the grand jury a few days ago on the charge of receiving stolen property consisting of money, watches, jewelry and other valuables, from Frank Chlopek, a twelve-year-old boy. The lad was the woman's accuser, and told a startling story of how she had forced him to steal and then to deliver the plunder to her. The unfortunate woman protested her innocence.

Chlopek stuck to his story, and his testimony seemed sufficient to convict the woman. The Prosecuting Attorney was convinced the woman was innocent, and finally wrung a confession from the boy to the effect that Mrs. Poland knew nothing of his stealings, and that the money and valuables he had taken were hidden away by him. He conducted the Prosecutor to the places where the articles were hidden. Young Chlopek said he had purchased with the proceeds of his plunder revolvers and ammunition to equip him as a cowboy. He had read dime novels.

Mrs. Poland was released.

HOSPITAL ENTERTAINMENT.

The Hospital course of entertainments to be presented in Newark this season beginning next month will be exceptionally good.

Tickets for the course will be on sale by the last of the week or not later than December 10th.

The first number of the series will be the Persian Garden Company consisting of Miss Rachel B. Freese, soprano; Mrs. W. A. Lafferty, contralto; S. T. Beddoe, tenor; D. T. Moore, baritone; Miss Julia T. Parks, accompanist. The Butler, Pa., Times, says:

One of the finest musical treats ever enjoyed by a Butler audience was that heard in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on Thursday evening, when the first of the series of concerts given under the auspices of Charles N. Boyd, of Pittsburg, was rendered. It is seldom that a concert company "catches" a Butler audience with the rendition of the first number, but such was the case when the quartet rendered "The Miller's Wooing" and during the first part of the program Miss Freese, Mrs. Lafferty, Mr. Beddoe and Mr. Moore each responded to hearty encores. The second part of the program consisted of the song cycle, "In a Persian Garden," and in this the singers again demonstrated their abilities as musical artists. The skillful accompaniment of Mr. Boyd was also much enjoyed by the audience.

RECEPTION

And Ball Given by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jewett at Their Home in Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

The Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Argus-Leader of November 30, contained the following account of a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Jewett former well known Newark residents:

On Tuesday evening, November 26, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jewett entertained at the Cataract with a reception and ball. In appointment, size, plan and management the event was one of the most successful and brilliant ever held in Sioux Falls. The second floor was given over entirely to the occasion, and two hundred and thirty guests disposed themselves through the spacious rooms, and enjoyed an evening of rare social pleasure. The decorations of the rooms were the work of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Marshall, Mrs. G. E. Hill, Mrs. H. M. Westfall, Mrs. C. E. Jewett and Mrs. Arthur Tuthill. The greenhouse of M. M. Strong supplied all of the floral decorations. The reception party occupied a position in the ladies' parlor. This was decorated with roses and chrysanthemums, with a trailing of smilax, and an artistic placing of potted plants. The receiving party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jewett, Fred Jewett, Mrs. Sarah Jewett, Fred Jewett of Aberdeen and Miss Sarah Jewett—three generations of the family being represented. From 8:30 until 10 o'clock this room was crowded by the guests who tendered their respects to the receiving party, and chatted most informally and happily with each other. The dining room was reserved for dancing. Stout's orchestra was in attendance, and perhaps seventy-five couples during the evening took more or less part in the pleasures of the dance. Those who did not dance enjoyed themselves in looking upon the brilliant scene, in games in the card room, or in chatting and visiting in the ladies' parlor and the reception room.

Refreshments were served in the ordinary. This accommodated about 40, and early in the evening it opened for the serving of those who had planned an early departure. Each of the tables was decorated with a huge centerpiece of roses. A three course luncheon was served by white-clad waitresses, with an order and speed which attracted much favorable comment from all the guests. To serve so large a gathering without confusion or delay is no small problem, and was a tribute to the executive ability of the management. It was about 1 o'clock when the music ceased and the guests departed with cordial thanks to the hospitality which had given them an evening long to be remembered.

One of the pleasant features of the evening was the presence of Mr. Fred Jewett, who is a student at the Wisconsin university at Madison. Mr. Jewett arranged this as a pleasant surprise for his wife who knew nothing of the plan until the young man appeared. Yesterday was Fred's twenty-first birthday and his friends took occasion to include him in the hearty congratulations of the occasion.

Rebel General Surrenders.

Colon, Colombia, Dec. 5.—The British cruiser Tribune, which sailed from here Sunday with the British consul on board, has returned to Colon from Bocas Del Toro, bringing news that the latter town is in the hands of the government and that its inhabitants are gaily celebrating the recapture of Colon. The peace commission which started for the interior to obtain an interview with General Diaz and Guigo to induce them to give up the struggle and return to Panama, has returned to that city. The commissioners saw General Diaz, who agreed to lay down his arms and come to Panama under the same conditions which were agreed upon at the time of the surrender of Colon.

Crippled Vessel Capsizes and Sinks With All Hands.

THIRTY PERSONS GO DOWN TO DEATH

Boat Was an Old Wooden One Flying the British Flag—Tug Attempted a Rescue but Darkness Intervened. Marine Mishaps as a Result of Fierce Storms.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 5.—The British ship Nelson, an old wooden craft, lumber laden, is reported to have foundered with her crew of 23 men in a fierce gale which swept the coast. The Nelson left Astoria Nov. 25. Monday night she was back at the river's mouth and Tuesday was reported to have shifted her cargo. She had a bad list of starboard and could go on only one tack. The tug Tatooch went out and picked up the Nelson, passing a hawser. The tug started on shore with the ship, owing to the gale. It was the intention of Captain Bailey of the Tatooch to remain with the ship during the night. The gale that raged was too severe for the vessel to withstand and she broke from the tug and then turned turtle, sinking at once. In the darkness it was impossible for the tug to render assistance to the members of the crew and all perished.

Following is a partial list of the crew: Captain Perriam, First Mate W. A. Strachan, Second Mate J. J. Tilsley, Seamen Vickmarr, M. Peterson, Lars Peterson, D. Beste, A. J. Hansen, J. Jensen, F. Larson, J. Torrell, John Mealey, St. John, N. H. Erickson, J. Burch, E. Sheehan, Queenstown; Apprentices W. Terris and J. Peste.

Both Crews Lost.

St. Johns, N. B., Dec. 5.—The tug Gypsum King, Captain Blizard, arrived here with one steel barge in tow and reported that two other barges broke away from the tow about six miles off Point Lepreau, in the Bay of Fundy. There are fears that the barges, with their crews of five men each, are lost, though the captain has hopes that as they are schooner rigged and fitted with sails they may have been able to make through the storm. The lost barges each carried about 1,000 tons of gypsum.

Steamer Ashore.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 5.—The steamer Clara Brown, one of the largest stern wheelers on the sound, was driven ashore at Alki point during a gale. The passengers jumped overboard and made their way ashore through the surf. The boat will probably be saved unless the gale becomes much worse.

Boat Disabled.

Alpena, Mich., Dec. 5.—The steamer reported ashore at Black river was the steamer Business of Detroit. She was brought to this port. Her machinery was disabled, but otherwise she was not seriously damaged.

THREE MEN SHOT

When They Demanded Satisfaction For an Alleged Insult.

Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 5.—It is reported from Westmoreland county that William P. Taylor was killed and J. C. Stitt and Willie Hettin seriously wounded by Herbert Marks. It appears that Taylor was informed of an alleged insult offered by Herbert Marks to a young lady, his (Taylor's) cousin, and endeavored to have the matter amicably settled. Failing to do so, he, in company with Stitt, Hettin and two other men, visited the Marks house. Upon arriving they found the house barricaded, and when they attempted to open a door Marks began shooting from a window. Taylor was shot through the heart and died instantly. Stitt was shot through the neck and Hettin in the stomach. Marks has surrendered to the authorities.

That Royal Quarrel.

London, Dec. 5.—The matrimonial quarrel between Queen Wilhelmina and Prince Henry, her husband, excites great interest here. The history of the affair as gathered from continental newspapers, charges Prince Henry with misconduct and neglect, and repeats rumors of his deep drinking and heavy gaming debts, which Queen Wilhelmina declined to pay. Another point of disagreement between the pair was the prince's unbecomingly antipathy to Holland and his ungovernable passion for hunting, which resulted in his long absences in Germany. It is said that the queen's mother interfered and taxed her son-in-law with his misbehavior, but without effect, and finally the matter developed into an estrangement between mother and daughter.

From Manila.

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—The transport Hancock arrived from Manila. In addition to the passengers and soldiers taken on at Manila, the Hancock brought those transferred from the Warren, which in turn had taken them from the Sheridan at Nagasaki. Both the Sheridan and Warren met with accidents, and when the Hancock started from Kobe she ran on a sand bar, but escaped with slight injuries. Among the passengers were Congressmen Weeks and DeArmond.

French Comment.

Paris, Dec. 5.—The Figaro, commenting editorially on President Roosevelt's message to congress, says it has a clearness and frankness rarely found in such documents. The paper dwells approvingly on the president's proposals against anarchists, and says: "President Roosevelt is the first chief of state who has publicly alluded to the necessity for precautionary measures in this direction and to indicate a program for common international action."

Harrimah, Tenn., Dec. 5.—Four members of the senior class at the American Temperance university bound and gagged Cadet Lester, carried him to the woods near by, tied him to a tree and whipped him. Then they placed him under a hydrant near the dormitory, turned on the water and left him. Lester says he stayed there two hours, when a student found him half frozen and in a semi-conscious condition. The officer of the guard reported that he found four cadets besides Lester—Bryan, Clark, Amos and Bishop—out of their rooms. Lester is said to have reported many little misdemeanors.

WHAT CAUSES DEAFNESS

The Principal Cause is Curable but Generally Overlooked.

Many things may cause deafness, and very often it is difficult to trace a cause. Some people inherit deafness. Acute diseases like scarlet fever sometimes cause deafness. But by far the most common cause of loss of hearing is catarrh of the head and throat.

A prominent specialist on ear trouble gives as his opinion that nine out of ten cases of deafness is traced to throat trouble; this is probably overstated, but it is certainly true that more than half of all the cases of poor hearing were caused by catarrh.

The catarrh secretion in the nose and throat finds its way into the Eustachian tube and by clogging it up very soon affects the hearing, and the hardening of the secretion makes the loss of hearing permanent unless the catarrh which caused the trouble is cured.

Those who are hard of hearing may think this a little far fetched, but any one at all observant must have noticed how a hard cold in the head will affect the hearing and that catarrh if long neglected will certainly impair the sense of hearing and ultimately cause deafness.

If the nose and throat are kept clear and free from the unhealthy secretions of catarrh, the hearing will at once greatly improve and anyone suffering from deafness and catarrh can satisfy themselves on this point by using a fifty cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new catarrh cure, which in the past year has won the approval of thousands of catarrh sufferers, as well as physicians, because it is in convenient form to use, contains no poisons or opiates and is safe and pleasant for children and elders.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is a whole-some combination of Blood root, Guaiac, Eucalyptol and similar antiseptics, and they cure catarrh and catarrhal deafness by action upon the blood and mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

As one physician aptly expresses it, "You do not have to draw upon the imagination to discover whether you are getting benefit from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; improvement and relief are apparent from the first tablet taken."

All druggists sell and recommend them. They cost but fifty cents for full sized package and any catarrh sufferer who has wasted time and money on sprays, salves and powders, will appreciate to the full the merit of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

MR. FILKER SUES B. &amp; O.

John Filker, by his attorney, R. L. Tannehill, has brought suit against the B. & O. railroad company to recover $6,500. The plaintiff says that the defendant, for which company he worked, at various times withheld a part of his wages for the payment of dues in an organization known as the Relief Department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and depriving plaintiff, as he alleges, of his rights under the statute. The plaintiff asks to recover $500 as a statutory penalty in each instance where a part of his wages was withheld. Plaintiff says that on the 16th of November last he was dismissed and discharged from defendant's services and on the same day forthwith demanded of defendant the reason of said discharge. The defendant failed and refused to furnish plaintiff the reason. The plaintiff asks judgment against defendant for $6,500 and for other proper relief.

THE JUDGMENT TEST.

Mt. Vernon, O., Dec. 5.—The taking of the depositions in the Wickham-Coyner contest was continued Wednesday before Notary Thompson in the court room. A number of Kenyon students were examined, and there was an inclination among them to throw out a little and answer more questions than they did on Tuesday. Witnesses were secured to ascertain the political affiliations of the students. The registrar of the college was subpoenaed and produced the college records to show the residences of the students.

The witnesses from Liberty township will not be used. One witness has been subpoenaed from Hilliard township. The taking of depositions was finished at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Federation of Labor.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 5.—The American Federation of Labor is in convention here with a large attendance of delegates. President Gompers presides. The Pacific coast delegation is fighting for the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion laws, with amendments to make its provisions apply to all Mongolians and its operation unlimited as to years. Delegates from the shipbuilding trades are making a vigorous campaign for a demand from the federal government that the government build its own ships and not let out the contracts to private parties, who pay less wages and exact more labor than does the government.

Silence of Miss Stone.

Constantinople, Dec. 5.—The recent silence of Miss Ellen M. Stone is attributed largely to unusually heavy snows. A minute investigation of the Ellidireh valley, where the captives are reported to have been buried, has nearly completed, but fails to show that Miss Stone and her companion, Madame Tsilka, were ever in that district.

Burns and Scalds.

In cases of burns or scalds, when the skin is unbroken, cover the burn with white lead paint, glycerin, fresh lard, linseed, olive, sweet or hard oil or soap. If the skin is broken, pour a mixture of oil and lime water (either linseed, olive, sweet or hard oil) in equal parts over the injury. Then place a soft piece of white linen or muslin wet with the oil mixture on the wound. Then loosely wind a bandage over this, removing it from time to time to wet the linen with the oil mixture. Never attempt to uncover the injury.

The Finishing Touches.

A girl who had been very clever at college came home the other day and said to her mother: "Mother, I've graduated, but now I must inform myself in psychology, philology, bibil."

"Just wait a minute," said the mother. "I have arranged for you a thorough course in roasting, boiling, stichology, dermatology, patchology and general domesticology. Now, put on your apron and pluck that chicken."

ISOLATION OF ACTORS.

Conditions Which Make the Profession a World by Itself.

This condition, which from some important points of view is fortunate, from others unfortunate and from nearly all inevitable, is unique indeed. Here we have the only large class of workers which keeps the world at arm's length. Clergymen, physicians, lawyers, architects, merchants, tradesmen and laborers of all sorts, by the very terms of their toil are brought into constant personal contact with parishioners, patients, clients or customers. Even painters and sculptors must needs be in touch with their patrons.

But that thin, impassable row of blazing lamps which rims the front of the stage accomplishes what the great wall of China was built to accomplish. Behind them is the sole "profession," in front of them the barbarous laity. If the player desired to break down the partition, he would scarcely be able to do so.

From the more important social gatherings which take place in the evening both actress and actor are necessarily absent. The actor may vote if he can acquire a residence and contrive to be in his own city on election day, but it is impossible that he should take any active part in politics or participate in preliminary meetings, caucuses and rallies which are held at night, and as to attendance at church, the player encounters, in the first place, the difficulty, inseparable from his wandering life, of making a connection with a parish and, besides, in recent years, is almost constantly required to travel on Sunday, passing from a Saturday evening's performance in one town to a Monday morning's rehearsal in another.—Atlantic Monthly.

BEAVER TAIL SOUP.

A Michigan Lumber Camp Delicacy That Amazed a Marylander.

"Although I am a Marylander and an Eastern Shore one at that," said an epicure from that state, "and consequently know what good things to eat are, I want to tell you that I'll have to take off my hat to the lumber camp cook of the upper Michigan peninsula as the discoverer, fabricator and dispenser of a dish that knocks the Eastern Shore cuisine silly. And that rare lumber camp dish is beaver tail soup."

Asking with Colonel Park of Columbus, O., deer hunting in the Rainy Lake region of Michigan one fall. We lived at a lumber camp boarding shanty. "There were signs of beaver at the upper end of the lake, and a trapper succeeded in trapping one of the wily mammals."

"When the beaver was brought into camp, the camp cook went nearly wild, and so did the lumbermen when they heard the news, all because they had been trying to trap a beaver for weeks, not for its fur, but for its tail, as they were preparing, they said, for beaver tail soup."

"The cook took that broad appendage of the beaver, mailed like an armadillo, took from it the underlying bone and meat, and from it made such a soup as never came from any other stock at the back of the most expert and scientific chef that ever put a kettle on."

"We could do the same thing and perhaps better on the Eastern Shore, but we lack one thing. We haven't got the beavers to yield us their tails."—New York Sun.

Providing for a Wayward Son.

Ted Chesterfield gave advice to his son in sunny letters, which might or might not be followed, but in his will he took good care that "my godson, Philip Stanhope," should have strong inducement to follow his advice on at least one point. All the bequests are subject to the condition that if Philip should keep race horses or hounds or stay one night at Newmarket, "that infamous seminary of iniquity and ill manners," during the course of the races there, or should lose on any one day, by betting or gaming as much as $500, then in such case he shall forfeit $5,000 to the dean and chapter of Westminster for every such offense.—All the Year Round.

Know Your Own Capacity.

If the people about you are carrying on their business or their benevolence at a pace which draws the life out of you, resolutely take a slower pace; be called a laggard, make less money, accomplish less work than they, but be what you are meant to be and can be. You have your natural limit of power as much as an engine—ten horsepower or twenty or a hundred. You are fit to do certain kinds of work, and you need a certain kind and amount of fuel and a certain kind of handling.—George S. Merriam.

Cleaning Jewels.

With the exception of pearls jewels may be washed with warm water and pure soap. They should then be put in boxwood sawdust to dry. If this is done, polishing will be unnecessary. As boxwood sawdust is very fine, it will not scratch, and as it absorbs moisture rapidly it helps to give jewels a high polish. It can be procured from any dealer in jeweler's supplies or ordered through a jeweler.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Value of Drainage.
More than one farmer who has put tile or other underground drains in his fields, or a part of them, learned this year the value of drainage in a drought as well as in a wet season, says American Agriculturist. It gives the circulation of air through the soil that keeps it light and friable, so that the roots penetrate through the soil to find the moisture they need. The soil does not pack after a rain, partly owing to the coming up of air from the tiles through the very channels that the water followed when it passed down to them. Some noticed that the rows, particularly of corn, which were almost directly over the line of the drain kept green longer and produced a better crop than those which were between the drains, and the poorest rows or parts of the field were those farthest from the drain. Some say the yield doubled in the close vicinity of the drains, in which case we should think the drains were too far apart for a very dry or a wet season. But this is not all the value of drainage. Land that is properly drained can be worked much earlier in the spring and is much less affected by the frosts in spring or fall because it is drier. Wheat and clover are not so often lifted and the roots broken during the freezing and thawing of the winter and are thus less liable to winter kill.

The Ideal Farm Horse.

A good plow horse or farm horse is a heavy but not clumsy animal and one capable of exerting great power and endurance in plowing or hauling, says C. W. Knox in American Cultivator. At the same time the animal must be a fair road horse, not a trotter, but one that can get across the country roads at a moderate pace. The animal should also be a fast walker and not a slow, clumsy, mulelike creature. Such ideal farm horses are bred now and to be found on thousands of farms. No farmer of any progressiveness would think of walking behind some of the old slow walking farm horses of a dozen years ago. Such an animal performs about one-half the work that a model farm horse does in a day.

Cold Frames and Hotheouses.

So great are the use and importance of inexpensive hotheouses and cold frames in starting early vegetables that no one should be without one or more, says a correspondent of American Agriculturist. Crops can be protected in these until very late in the fall, and semibardy plants can be kept in perfect condition all winter long. Where one raises vegetables for early market hotheouses are of course absolute necessities, but even the ordinary farmer needs them for his early crops, whether he is engaged in the market gardening business or not. Tomatoes, lettuce, seed onions and scores of other vegetables can be started under glass, months before it is possible to plant them outside.

Packing Comb Honey.

In packing comb honey for market it is to the producer's interest to face the cases honestly, says a correspondent of American Agriculturist. The row of combs next to the glass should be a fair sample of the whole case. Do not sell your reputation while selling your honey, for you will probably have some honey to dispose of in the future. Try to build up your reputation by dealing honestly. If light and dark honey are packed together in the same case, you may get the price for all light honey, but if the cases are opened you will surely get paid for all dark honey. The poor will depreciate the good, so pack each grade separately and face honestly.

Animals For the Farm.

The ideal farm cow, sheep or pig should be a medium between the high bred animal and the old scrub, says a Kansas farmer in American Cultivator. That is, each one should possess some of the hardness of the latter and be able to hustle a little for a living without suffering therefrom, and yet be able to do good work, make beef or milk in good quantities or produce pork or wool that will pay. These animals show a degree of success on the average farm which makes them of great value. They are suited to a little rough, practical life, and yet when kindly treated they respond quickly to the improved environments.

Killing Weeds With a Cultivator.

The great secret of killing weeds with a cultivator after they have got a start is to run the cultivator so deep as to tear them out root and branch, says S. H. Todd in National Stockman. There has so much been said on shallow cultivation, which is all right if understood, that the amateur farmer thinks he must keep on top of the ground even if he keeps on top of the weed roots to carry out this end. Weeds will bid defiance to that kind of treatment and in a few days will laugh, "Ha, ha! Come again, our backs need scratching."

Selecting Dairy Cows.

Color is only skin deep in a cow. Go more by the contour and size of her udder, says George E. Newell in Nebraska Farmer. I once knew a dairyman who never purchased a new cow until he himself had sat down and milked her. It is needless to add that he seldom made a poor purchase.

Care of Seed Corn.

Select as solid ears as possible and dry thoroughly, then keep in a warm, dry place over winter. A good plan for storing is to put the corn in heavy paper bags and hang these to the rafters in a dry garret. Kiln dried corn will sprout more quickly than that left to dry out naturally.

WITH GUN

An Intoxicated Man in Weir City, Kan., Fatally Shoots His Wife and Children.

Weir City, Kan., Dec. 3.—Romaine Taylor, while intoxicated, shot and fatally wounded his wife and son, Girard, and seriously wounded two other sons at his home in this city. He had just returned from a neighbor's house where a crowd had been celebrating St. Barbara's day. He threatened to kill the whole family, and was about to shoot his wife with a shotgun when his son Girard appeared, also armed with a shotgun. The son shot at his father but missed him, and before the boy could fire again he received a charge of shot in the left side. The elder Taylor then commenced shooting at everybody in sight. His wife received a charge of shot in the right shoulder, which tore it away, his son, Emil, had a hand shot off and another son was badly wounded.

Not Nellie Cropsey.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Dec. 5.—It is believed here that the woman arrested at Wilson, N. C., and partially identified as Miss Nellie Cropsey, is the same who, with her companion, was examined at Speed, N. C., by an agent of Chief of Police Dawson several days ago and found not to be Miss Cropsey, though resembling her in a general way. No clew of value has yet been found, and the strange case is practically in the same position it was the day after the girl disappeared. Chief of Police Dawson received a telegram from Wilson, N. C., giving a description of the woman who was arrested there, which does not at all answer to Nellie Cropsey's description.

To Force the Panamists.

London, Dec. 5.—The annual report of Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury, and the report of the Isthmian canal commission are subjects of comment. The Daily Mail takes an exceptional line and expresses an opinion that the selection of the Nicaraguan route was merely intended to force the Panama concessionaires to reasonable terms, and thinks the canal commission's report should hasten the discovery of some compromise. The paper says "here is no doubt but that the estimates of the engineers will be enormously exceeded, whichever scheme is adopted, but that this need not cause great concern to Uncle Sam, whose purse is bottomless."

Wounded in Riots.

Rich Hill, Mo., Dec. 5.—Two small riots here in which striking miners and deputy sheriffs were the participants resulted in the serious wounding of four men. Sheriff Joe T. Smith of Butler, Mo., was seriously injured by shot from a sling in the hands of one of the strikers. Walter Valentini, a deputy sheriff, shot two miners and was himself shot. The coal miners on the Rich Hill coal field went on a strike about 10 days ago. The strike arose over a demand made by union miners of the Rich Hill Coal company for a Jack weight.

Tackled the Wizard.

New York, Dec. 5.—The reappearance of Jake Schaefer, the wizard of Madison Square Garden, in an open tournament in this city was the chief feature of the play in the international bullfight contest, which is being held in Madison Square Garden. Schaefer's opponent was the young Canadian expert, Leonard Howson, and while the veteran player beat the young aspirant, Howson made a host of friends by his nifty play throughout the game. Score, 400 to 357.

Miners Burned.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 5.—Ten men narrowly escaped instant death from a dust explosion in the Lincoln Park Coal company's mine here. All were frightfully burned about the face and hands. The explosion occurred just as the men were leaving the mine and was due to the firing of a heavy blast 600 feet from the mouth of the mine.

Race Riot Follows a Tragedy.

Andalusia, Ala., Dec. 5.—Word has reached here that a race riot followed the killing of Fate Atkinson and J. W. Duffey by a negro at Opp. Two negroes have been found dead. The officers there have wired here for the sheriff and dogs and have also wired to River Falls for dogs. A posse is being organized here to go to Opp.

Mexican Views.

City of Mexico, Dec. 5.—President Roosevelt's message has been very favorably received in government and business circles. The general comment is that his declaration in favor of Cuban independence and a free trade policy with the island will greatly strengthen American prestige all over Latin America.

Turf Winners.

How Uncle Sam May Still Aid Cuba
By Brigadier General JAMES H. WILSON, Ex-Governor of Matanzas and Santa Clara Provinces

HAVE FROM MY FIRST OFFICIAL REPORT TO THE PRESENT DAY URGED IT AS THE HIGHEST DUTY OF STATESMANSHIP TO GIVE ABSOLUTE AND UNRESTRICTED FREE TRADE IN NATURAL AND MANUFACTURED PRODUCTS TO THE CUBANS in exchange for the same privilege to be granted by them to us under the protection of a common tariff as against all other countries. This is a novel as well as a radical measure. I contend that if adopted it cannot fail to develop the resources of Cuba rapidly and completely. Wages would increase, wealth and prosperity would appear on every world fill up with ish peasantry would and such a boom as ever seen would pre-land for the next As my friend, Juan owns the beautiful Conchita, said to "WITH FREE TRADE IN SUGAR AND TOBACCO CUBA WOULD BE A DRIFT. SHE WOULD INDEED BE A CITY OF GOLD."

Of course, our domestic sugar and tobacco growers and perhaps other protected interests will oppose it, but every laboring man, manufacturer and consumer of tropical products would profit by cheaper sugar, cigars and fruits and a wider market for our breadstuffs and manufactured products, and with all due deference I submit that under the doctrine of the greatest good to the greatest number the measure should prevail.

THE CUBANS CANNOT HOPE TO SURVIVE AND PROSPER AS AN INDEPENDENT NATION UNLESS THEY ARE PERMITTED TO SHARE IN THE PROSPERITY OF THE SURROUNDING COUNTRIES. UNDER THE SOLEMN ASSURANCES OF THE JOINT RESOLUTION THEY CANNOT BE ANNEXED TO THE UNITED STATES. THAT DOOR IS SHUT FOR THE PRESENT AT LEAST. IF WE CANNOT FIND ANOTHER, WE SHOULD HAVE DONE WELL TO LEAVE THEM UNDER THE OPPRESSIVE DOMINION OF SPAIN.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Kind of a Boy the World Wants.

Boys are always in demand because they are the material out of which men are made, and as first class material is always at a premium in every line of trade so the boys who give promise of making first class men are most eagerly sought after.

The boy the world wants today is the one who can be trusted to handle money without any of it sticking to his fingers or finding its way into his pockets. He will take as much interest in the affairs of his employer as if they were his own and will stay fifteen minutes without being asked to finish a piece of work after the whistle blows and the rest of the men have quit work. He will be able to write a business letter and spell the words correctly and to add up a column of figures promptly and accurately. He will hit his cap as readily to his sister when he meets her on the street as he would were she the sister of some other boy, and he will not be ashamed to walk to church with his mother, show her into her own pew and sit beside her during the service. He will be careful in making a promise and just as careful about keeping it. He will have sufficient moral backbone to say "No" to those who would lead him astray, and he will have enough courage to own that he is striving to make a man of himself.

This is the kind of boy so many are on the lookout for.—Selected.

Story of the Toy Cats.

It was night in the nursery. Jack lay in his crib, rosy and sweet, all ready for a dream.

On Jack's toy table stood Mother Spot, the china cat, and her two kittens, Speck and Dot. They had real cat natures hidden under their hard exteriors, and no one but Jack had ever found it out.

"Speck and Dot," said Mother Spot, "Jack had an awful scare today. His uncle brought him a tin mouse."

"Meow!" cried Speck and Dot, and it sounded exactly as if they were cracking "mouse, meow!"

"I know where that mouse is!" said Spot.

"Tell us," cried the kittens.

"Under the bed. And if you have the least spark of your ancestors' spirit go for it."

Down from Jack's table leaped those three china cats and straight for the tin mouse, who was so frightened he simply stared and without a word awaited his fate.

They fell upon him, those three china cats. They tore him to pieces, and then, covered with glory and brown paint, they crept back to Jack's table and waited.

In the morning nurse found the remnants of the mouse under the bed, and she said sadly:

"Jack, it was naughty of you to break the mouse even if you didn't like him."

And Jack wondered what made nurse so silly.

One Boy's Loyalty.

He was at school in Canada, and it was his first day in class. The geography lesson was called, and it was his turn to answer.

"Which is the largest city in the world?" asked the teacher.

"New York," unhesitatingly came the answer.

"I mean the largest city in the world," said the teacher.

And promptly came the reply, "New York."

"But," expostulated the teacher, "I did not say the largest city in the United States, but the largest city in the world."

"New York," unhesitatingly and emphatically said the boy.

"London has a larger population than New York," said the teacher. "If I do not have the correct answer this time, I shall have to punish you. Come, now," coaxingly, "tell me the name of the largest city in the world."

"New York."

"Stay in during recess and write me fifty lines."

He wrote the fifty lines, and every line read, "The biggest city in the world is New York."

Nut and Popcorn Games.

Chestnuts with initials cut in the side with a sharp knife are set to roast. The company is numbered. The first nut that pops belongs to No. 1 and is examined to see what initials it has marked on it. The initials reveal the future fate of No. 1. The second nut which pops reveals the fate of No. 2, and so on. The nuts will have to be watched very closely, for sometimes they pop very close together.

Popcorn can be tried later. Each one puts into the popper as many kernels as there are years in her life—that is, if Mary is fifteen she puts fifteen kernels in the popper and holds it for two minutes over the fire. Then she removes the popper and takes out the kernels. Then some one else tries it. The number of white popped kernels in each one's popper tells in how many years a happy marriage awaits her.—Journal Junior.

They heard him with sorrow. "Oh, Edward, for

DAMAGE SUIT

AGAINST ANNA CARLISLE NOW OF COLUMBUS.

Alienation of Affections is the Charge Made and Fifteen Thousand Dollars the Sum Wanted.

The Columbus Dispatch contains the following regarding a damage suit for $15,000 brought by Mrs. Ada Hovey against Anna Carlisle, for alienating her husband's affections:

"A couple of weeks ago Mrs. Ada Hovey sued Henry Milton Hovey one of the principal witnesses in the Foster investigation before the civil service commission, for alimony. Tuesday morning she had her attorney, Mr. E. E. Tanner bring a $15,000 damage suit against Anna Carlisle another of the principal witnesses in that investigation. Mrs. Hovey claims that Anna Carlisle (formerly of Newark) who keeps a house on South Front street, has enticed her husband from her. She says she and Hovey were married November 14, 1891. They lived together till last July, when, as the petition claims, the defendant persuaded Hovey to leave his home and wife and go to another part of the city. She charges that Hovey spends his time in dissipation, drunken orgies and in the society of bad women. Mrs. Hovey claims that Anna Carlisle supports him, has his society and has excluded his wife from them. The wife says she has been put to much trouble and expense in trying to recover him from the woman. She has suffered mental distress and asks for damages as above stated."

Surely no better backing can be had than the following statement from Mrs. B. Pain across the small of my back was often so acute that I was hardly able to move around and a distressing and annoying urinary weakness accompanied it. A friend of mine, who, by using Doan's Kidney Pills, had been cured of backache, advised me to try them. I took the advice and obtained a box at Crayton's drug store. First the kidneys were stimulated to a healthy and natural action, then the backache and general feeling of depression left me."
